

Gryd in the news.

Press coverage, broadcast appearances and the policy moments that shape rooftop solar on new build homes. Newest first, and most of these links leave the site.

2025

24 October 2025

Gryd and Shoosmiths

Building for Tomorrow: Gryd & Shoosmiths' Future Homes Standard Industry Briefing

Gryd and Shoosmiths co-hosted a private industry briefing in October focused on the upcoming Future Homes Standard and what it means for low-carbon, all-electric new-build homes in the UK.

2 October 2025

Renewable Energy Magazine

Brits with rooftop solar saved £471m on energy bills in the last year

1.6m UK households now generate their own power from rooftop solar and saved an estimated £471m on energy bills over the last year, according to analysis of government data by Gryd.

22 September 2025

Thrive in Construction

Future-Proof Housing: Transforming the way new homes access renewable energy

Gryd's CEO Mohamed Gaafar appeared on the Thrive in Construction Podcast to talk to host Darren Evans about Gryd's work unlocking the benefits of solar for homeowners and helping developers future-proof their housing stock.

8 September 2025

BusinessGreen

Norfolk development first to benefit from fully-funded solar and battery scheme

East Anglia developer Zero In Developments has partnered with solar energy provider Gryd to deliver homes with full-sized solar and battery storage systems – at no cost to homebuyers.

30 June 2025

Roofing Today

The government's Solar Roadmap sets out a new era of energy independence

The Solar Roadmap will play a major role in delivering both the government's mission for the UK to become a clean energy superpower and its Clean Power 2030 Action Plan.

4 June 2025

The Times

Homeowners lead UK's rooftop solar surge — but shrinking system sizes reveal hidden challenge

The UK's residential rooftop solar market is outpacing commercial and industrial rooftop installations by three-fold, new data reveals.

30 April 2025

BusinessGreen

How Gryd is signing up new housing schemes to its solar subscription model

Self-confessed built environment 'nerd' Mohamed Gaafar reflects on how his interest in liveable spaces and work on Saudi mega-cities led him to co-found a UK-first solar subscription service.

28 April 2025

Inside Housing

Councils now outpace private homeowners in rooftop solar uptake

Local authorities in the UK are outpacing private homeowners in their rates of rooftop solar adoption, according to research by Gryd.

22 February 2025

Construction UK Magazine

Solar's 'Rooftop Revolution' Can Energise – Not Imperil – Construction Industry

The clean energy transition has been steadily building momentum for years now, but this year solar's 'rooftop revolution' is set to make particularly big political and economic waves. So, how will the construction industry rise to the occasion in 2025 and take advantage of the opportunity that the solar movement presents?

<https://gryd.energy/news>